ICE OREAM, SODA WATER, &c. ICE CREAM.

My Ico Crosm Manufactory, one of the largest in Virginia, still continues to supply private customers, Sunday schools, excursions, picnics, fairs, festivals and associations, as well as the trade, with that SUPERIOR CREAM that has made a name in this community, and is known everywhere as BRENGLE'S ICE CREAM. I could easily reduce its price by lowering its quality, but good cream, of fresh, pure, wholesome ingredients, cannot be furnished at a less price than I serve it. Of course, I could "grade my cream by the price," but my cream would lose the good name that years of fair dealing have won for it. I ask that persons abroad ordering "Brengle's Croam" from third parties will assure themselves that the cream sent is certainly from my establishment. I warrant my cream, and do not wish that inferior croam, sent out as mine, may injure its reputation. It is my aim to furnish the BEST CREAM IN AMERICA, and my customers are satisfied that I do so. HENRY BRENGLE.

SICIANS. Valley Stream, Queens Co., Long Island, N. Y. Mr. H. R. Slevens: Dear Sir-I take the pleasure of writing you a small certificate concerning Vegetine prepared by you. I have been a sufferer with the Dyspepsia for ever forty years, and have had the Chronic Diarrhea for six months, and have tried most every thing; was given up to die, and did not expect to live from day to day, and no physician could touch my case. I saw your Vogetine recommended to cure Dyspepsia. I commenced using it, and I continued doing so, and am now a well woman and restored to perfect health. All who are afflicted with this terrible disease

VEGETINE. - When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either frem change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tene of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE FOR CANCERS AND CANCEROUS HUMORS.

[The Doctor's certificate.—Read it.] Ashley, Washington, Co., Ill., Jan. 14, 1878. H. R. Slevens, esq.
Dear Sir—This is certify that I have been suffering from a Rose Cancer on my right breast, which grew very rapidly, and all my friends had given me up to die, when I heard of your medicine, Vegetine, recommended for Cancer and Cancerous Hamors. I commenced to take it, and soon found myself beginning to feel better; my health and spirits both felt the benign in-luence which it exerted, and in a few months from the time I commenced the use of the Vege-tine, the Cancer came out almost bodily.

CARRIE DEFORREST. I certify that I am personally acquainted with Mrs. DeForrest, and consider hear one of our very best women Dr. S. H. FLOWERS.

All diseases of the blood-If Vegetine will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

VEGETINE

REGARD IT AS VALUABLE FAMILY MEDICINE. January 1, 1878. Mr. H. R. Stevens:

beautiful woman in the Northwest. Her family were patrician and all her associations were elevated. In 1833, when her father was Secretary of the Territory of Michigan, she enjoyed a political as well as a social distinction, and later, when Michigan was erected into a State, her brother, Stevens T. Mason, became its first Governor, and she presided over the household and dispensed a liberal and graceful hospitality. The gubernatorial massion was the centre of the culture and fashion of the Northwest, and Miss Mason was at the head of the society of the Wolverine metropolis.

While Miss Mason was discharging the daties of first lady of the State, Major Lewis Cass was at West Point. During his vacations he visited his home and was thrown much into the society of the brilliant Emily. Ho was younger than she, and if he was smitten by her beauty and accomplishments he never summoned the courage to propose.

She was a girl of proud, independent spirit, and with the remains of her property she purchased a market farm in Fairfax county, Va., and began business like a practical woman. She developed energy and commercial foresight, and soon enjoyed prosperity. She supported herself at her orphaned nieces in elegant style, work

She dwelt in Washington for a while, and her home on Pennsylvania avenue was the resort of some of the most brillian; men and women in the capital. Many years before this Major Cass had established himself in the French capital, and had become a Frenchman in his tastes and methods of life. The two met, and the concealed passion of early years, rekindled in the breast of the old gentleman, led him to offer Miss Mason his hand and fortune, but she said she had resolved never to marry, and the Major asked her to do him the honor of grant ing him her friendship. Then, until his death, which occurred rather suddenly, Miss Mason was his companion in that friendship in which the French in the decline of life know so well how to associate, and she closed his eyes and took charge of his remains. Under the terms of his will his body was embalmed and brought to Michigan. A plain tomb, to cost not more than $200 will mark the resting place of Lewis Cass, the self expatriated descendant of Michigan's greatest son. The will of Major Cars bequeaths to Miss Mason $6,000, three diamond rings, which the testator dearly prized, and makes her the joint executrix of the instru

TAKING THEIR VOWS .- In the chapel attached to the convent of the Good Shepherd yesterday morning six postulants took the white veil and six novices took the black veil of the Order. The chapel was filled with a large and interested throng of spectators, many of whom were relatives of the young religiouse. The ceremony began by the officiating priest giving a lighted candle to each of the candidates as she knelt before the altar, and addressing them in appropriate terms upon the step they were ed to the estate are requested to make prompt about to take. The six novices were dressed in white cashmere dresses of a modern pattern, with illusion veils, confined to their heads by wreaths of orange flowers. In reply to the celebrant's question of "What do you de mand?" they said they desired to be clothed in the habit of the "Daughters of Charity of Our Lady of the Good Shepherd." They then retired from the chapel to change the secular dress for that of the cloister, and in their ab sence the celebrant blessed the various garments of religious attire. Presently they re entered the chapel, and, kneeling before the altar, received the black veil, which was placed upon them by the celebrant. The six postulants

They profess to believe in God and in certain prophets, the last of whom was named Hakim. They believe that when they die their souls pass into others bodies, and they believe that their religion will one day be triumphant over every other religion.
